# Learning for Life, Anchored in Christ

Hello everyone,

it's Miss Groom from Year 3. It has been another busy week here at St.Clement's with our first careers day event, class visits for Y1, Y2 and Y4, class assembly for Y3 and a special assembly from NED's mindset mission. Make sure you ask your child to tell you more.

Next week all classes are looming forward to Science week with a focus on climate change. Make sure you come along to community day on Thursday 11th July to see the outcomes of this exciting week.

Have a great weekend and enjoy the sunshine!
Miss Groom

Everyone at St Clement's would like to give a big shout out to all the volunteers who helped make our first ever Careers day a huge success. The children really enjoyed asking questions and finding out about what different jobs entailed and what it takes to get into different types of work. We now have a few future vets, script writers and a range of jobs the children may never have thought about. We look forward to hosting another next year.

Sometimes it can seem like cyber bullying will never end. But there are some things you can do to make it stop.

Nobody has to go through online bullying alone. Telling someone you trust could help you report the cyber bullying and give you more confidence to deal with the situation. You could talk to a friend, an adult you trust or one of our trained counsellors.

Cyber bullying is not against the law, but harassment or threatening behaviour is. That means if someone keeps making you feel scared on purpose, what they're doing could be illegal.

If someone's bullying or threatening you, something can be done to stop them and you should report it to an adult you trust. If you can, keep a record of the bullying. Having a record of when and where the bullying happened can help to get it stopped.

WhatsApp

Sending abusive, nasty or threatening text messages to someone is a type of bullying. This could include sharing those texts with other people who might join in the bullying.

Online Gaming

If someone is constantly targeting you in a game, or being abusive towards you then that's a type of bullying. People could also try to steal your belongings or hack into your account.

Childline is a service to support children with a range of issues, not just cyber bullying. Bullying, the law, bodies, friendships, relationships, abuse, safety, feelings, families and school are all areas that Childline can offer support in.

Community & Family Day

On Thursday 11th July school will not be open for lessons. Once again it is community day where parents are invited to come into school for the final parent-teacher meeting of the year. It is the opportunity to receive your child's end of year report and discuss this with the teacher as well as looking at some of the wonderful work your child has produced throughout the year. For your child to gain their attendance mark they will need to come into school with you. The meetings are drop in sessions but there will be lots of other things going on in school too. As usual, there will be King Edwards Grammar school, the school nurse and a range of other local services you may wish to access.

The summer fair will also be taking place with stalls, food & refreshments and a host of fun activities for the whole family to enjoy.

Last week we held a parent workshop delivered by the NSPCC, focusing on online safety. Thank you to all of the parents who came along and joined in. It was a great chance for parents to talk about any worries or queries they had about how to keep their child safe online. There was lots of great information given out and if you have any concerns about your child's online safety then let myself or your child's teacher know. You can also visit www.net-aware.org.uk where there is lots of important information about keeping your child safe on online games and social media. Additionally, O2 provide an excellent service where you can take your phones and gadgets into their stores and they will support you to make them safer for your child. Mrs Price
